9-28-1mo, little daughter of Mineral Point, Wis., work.

Lovely Susan Broderick lives in the old family mansion with her father Morris, brother John, Uncle Worthy, his wife Edna, and a spinster aunt, Lutie. Aithough they have lost their wealth the old folks live in a dream world of social prominence. They feel humiliated when it is necessary to take in a "paying guest" Susan is filled with pity for the stranger; she knows he will be ignored by her snobbish relatives. The family wonders what Susan's fiance, Wallace Steffen, young banker, will think, Susan is in favor of telling him the truth, but Aunt Edna frowns on this saying. "If the man uses the side door, Wallace will never have to see him. Don't say anything, Susan, unless you have to." John, working his way through college, wants to give it up, and get a job on The Express. His father's heart is set on the boy becoming a lawyer. Susan announces her engagement to the family. "Mr. Broderick said in the tought flashed but John. He looks at Susan in a blank sort of way and then abruptly leaves the room, saying he forgot a telephone call.
